

A Dead Stomach

Of What Use Is It?

Thousands of people throughout America are taking the slow death treatment daily. They are murdering their own stomach, the best friend they have, and in their sublime ignorance they think they are putting aside the laws of nature.

This is no sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will not deny.

These thousands of people are swallowing daily huge quantities of poison and other strong digesters, made especially to digest the food in the stomach without any aid at all from the digestive membrane of the stomach.

Mucous stomach tablets relieve distressed stomach in five minutes; they do more. Taken regularly for a few weeks they build up the run down stomach and make it strong enough to digest its own food. Then indigestion, belching, sour stomach and headache will go.

Mucous stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere and by Jo Anderson, who guarantees them.—(Adv.)

FLOUR MILLS STILL ON REDUCED TIME

No Prospect of Change in Near Future—Holding Back on Tariff Changes.

While an almost unprecedented new wheat crop has been and is being harvested there are yet no indications that any change will be made in working or other conditions in the near future. Not until September anyhow, if then, said a prominent mill man Wednesday morning. The uncertainties of regulations, depending to a great extent on the recent advance in freight rates, place the mill interests on the anxious stool. While reports coming into this office name of few instances where working hours have been enlarged upon, in Chattanooga no changes have taken place or are expected in the near future. The making of flour is now confined to from one-third to one-half time, instead of full and overtime as of former times, but in the making of meal the mills are kept more busy in that particular line. It has been hoped by many consumers that the restrictions on the use of flour would be somewhat modified, but the fifty-fifty orders will remain in force for some time. The food administration sees in this course the only way by which the flour needed for war purposes can be conserved. While it is believed the amount on hand at all times will be ample, the government plans to have a large reserve to cover any emergency.

When asked if the mill expected to run on full time in the near future the miller stated that he had no encouragement to offer, as he believed present conditions would prevail indefinitely.

There is not much encouragement to offer for a bumper corn crop. In all sections weather conditions have not been of the best. Corn crops were not up to the standard for this time of year, being weak and spindling, and the frosts and cold weather in June in the northern states recently caused much of it to be ruined or greatly damaged.

APPEAL MADE FOR FISH CONSERVATION

Dynamite Barred as Means of Taking Fish—Mill Men Urged Not to Pollute Streams.

The food administrators, both state and local, have called attention to the substitution of fish for meats that can be shipped to the American and other allied soldiers in France. Attention has been called to the names of all plants and factories dumping waste into streams that might be inhabited by fish. State Administrator H. A. Morgan, in a communication received in this city, asks that every means be taken to conserve and produce that item of food.

The use of dynamite in fishing is forbidden by the administrator, who points out that large quantities of fish are killed by the explosion that are never consumed.

"We ask you to urge the sawmill men to arrange their plants so that no sawdust waste will be dumped into streams, the local administrator was instructed. You will send to this office a list of all those operating sawmills in your county, who are permitting waste to be dumped into streams.

"We also urge that all factories in your county be asked, as a patriotic duty, to refrain from the pollution of streams with dye stuffs, or other deleterious substances which are calculated to poison fish. You will send to this office a list of all factories that pollute the streams with substances that poison fish.

"It is desired first to use every reasonable means to secure the co-operation of all concerned in this great patriotic conservation, but if proper results do not obtain within a reasonable length of time, the authorities will be compelled to resort to more effective measures than an appeal."

FREIGHT CAN'T BE ADDED UNLESS DEALERS PAY

Fuel Administrator Bars Practice of Profiteering in Freight Rates.

State Fuel Administrator W. E. Myer, of Nashville, has issued an important ruling concerning the coal dealers who added the advanced freight rates to their retail prices. In this ruling, which has been sent to the local administrator, W. E. Wilkerson, Mr. Myer states that coal dealers cannot add to the selling price the increased freight rates unless they have actually paid them.

It seems that a number of the dealers who had coal on hand before this rule went into effect, and who received coal from the railroads before the charge was made, have been adding this 25 cent increase to the coal already in their yards. This, the administrator declares, is merely profiteering, and the dealers who have been doing this have been taking advantage of the fuel administration.

RECRUITS FOR ENGINEERS COME IN RAPIDLY

Troops for the 605th regiment of engineers, Col. Spencer Crosby commanding, have been rapidly arriving during the last week. Already the first battalion is nearly completed, according to Col. Crosby, but the exact number cannot be given out.

Permanent headquarters have been established in the old building of the sixth division. Capt. Moore has been appointed adjutant. The men, who have arrived, are more or less specialists in various lines, such as electricians, mechanics, surveyors, helpers, etc. Training in military drill is being carried on daily in the field back of the regimental headquarters.

CHECKS UP LIST OF IMMORAL WOMEN

Judge McReynolds Explains Why Some of Them Were Released.

A complete checking up of the women who have come before the criminal court on the charge of vagrancy has just been completed by Fred W. Hill, at the instance of Judge S. D. McReynolds. The list shows that most of the women who have been arrested were sent to the hospital for treatment by the government. An investigation at the hospital by Mr. Hill revealed the fact that, for various and sundry reasons, they have left the hospital and have never been heard of since. Some of them escaped, some were allowed to leave town and go to their homes and others were freed by the government physicians. Some of the women have been given their liberty by Judge Fleming and allowed to leave town, some are out on bond, some in the Crittenton home, a few in jail and about twenty-five have been disposed of by Judge McReynolds. Judge McReynolds, in speaking of the cases Friday said: "It is my desire and wish to assist in every way possible the government in the cases of these women, but at the same time our public treasury must be protected and when I see a better disposition to make of a case than have the women a useless charge on the county, then I act as I see best. For instance, not long ago a man from Alabama came to me and said his daughter was in the hospital and had come after her and wanted to take her back and has his doctor treat her in their own home. Now, I thought it best for this girl to be allowed to go home with her father for the reason she would probably be happier and maybe reform her, and then it was removing a charge from the county. I can show a record of every one of these cases I have disposed of and in no instance have I allowed them to go until I had first thoroughly examined each case. After the women are taken to the hospital for treatment then they are in charge of the government and I have absolutely nothing to do with how they leave the hospital or by whose authority. I have allowed several women to go on the recommendation of Dr. Marchbanks and other government physicians, because I thought it best."

Judge McReynolds' list consisted of 123 women, and marked by each name is the disposition of the case and where the ones freed have gone and upon whose authority they were turned loose.

Let an Expert Do It

Charging is not an especially complicated process, but it is an especially important one.

By proper charging, batteries are returned to their proper condition; by improper charging, their life is likely to be seriously shortened.

When your battery is charged by a Willard expert, the charging rate is carefully determined, and is slowed down by just the right amount as the process nears completion.

Ask us about the Still Better Willard. It is the only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.
